State Speech Contest Announces School Awards

LA CROSSE, Wis. – Twenty-nine Wisconsin schools received recognition for their overall performance at the Wisconsin State Speech Festival. The event returned this year to UW-Madison, with some students participating virtually. This year, more than 3,150 students, representing nearly 300 schools advanced to the State Festival. While most schools participated in person, about a dozen only participated online, and one-third had at least one entry who submitting a video of their performance to be evaluated online.

Adjudicators rated each student or performing group to determine a medal award, and the top five percent of medal-earning schools are recognized with Excellence in Speech Awards, with the school and coach each presented with a plaque. This year, 14 schools earned this honor (sorted by school, alphabetically):

During the COVID-19 pandemic, WISDAA, like many state activities associations, sought alternative approaches to holding speech contests, working with such organizations as the National Speech & Debate Association and National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS). After one year online, the Speech season culminated its event at nearby DeForest High School for three years.

“It was exciting to return to the institution that started our event, UW-Madison,” said WISDAA Executive Director Adam Jacobi. “The energy and enthusiasm of students was apparent on the beautiful April days we were on campus, and the College of Letters and Science was incredibly accommodating.”

Jacobi added: “It has been a challenging time for schools to participate in interscholastic academic sports like Speech. As an association affiliated with the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS), we are aware participation numbers among schools are lower across the country, and Wisconsin is no exception. In a time when we are bombarded by information, cultivating effective communication in young people through activities like interscholastic Speech is more important than ever.”

About the Wisconsin Interscholastic Speech & Dramatic Arts Association

Founded in 1895, the Wisconsin Interscholastic Speech & Dramatic Arts Association (WISDAA) has provided programming for middle and students in theatre, debate, and public speaking (archaically called “forensics”) activities. Each year, our nonprofit organization serves about 7,000 Wisconsin students from more than 350 high schools, and 150 middle schools in the longest-running high school speech contests in the nation. Our aim is to empower students to enhance their skills in presentation through interscholastic assessment. For more information, visit www.wisdaa.org.
