Extemporaneous Speech rubric

Topic

Score: 5

How does the speaker directly answer the question chosen? Is the response well-defined?

Your answer to the question is clear. You make a solid argument.

Content/Organization

Score: 4

Is the speech well-developed and organized? Does the speech have a clear introduction, body, and conclusion with effective transitions? Does the speaker support the response with evidence and reasoning and cite credible sources appropriately?

You make several good points in your speech. You cite relevant data to support your claim.

Organization is a little unclear. The introduction could have been stronger to capture our attention and state your claim right away. Try to clearly lay out what points you plan to make for your audience.

Style of Delivery

Score: 4

How does the speaker utilize quality word choices? How are effective language skills utilized throughout the speech? How does the style of delivery help the speech flow?

Word selection is o.k. Try to utilize stronger and richer words. "So", "Now", "In conclusion" - could use more creative transitions to help with flow. You are a little repetitive as well.

You have a very casual/conversational style for a lot of the speech. You become a little more formal/professional in your style when stating facts.

Vocal Delivery

Score: 4

How does the speaker utilize effective vocal techniques? Are pitch, volume, and rate appropriate? Are articulation and pronunciation clear and correct?

Volume and rate are good throughout. You had a few stumbles and corrections with articulation/pronunciation.

You sound very passionate in your argument (nice job).

Physical Delivery

Score: 5

How does the speaker utilize appropriate physical techniques? How do gestures and movement enhance the presentation? Does the speaker utilize appropriate eye contact and facial expressions to engage the audience?

Eye contact is inconsistent (good at times and nonexistent at times). Try not to look up/away, make eye contact with the audience (the camera in this case).

Gestures and facial expressions are very strong and natural (they add to your speech).
